VOICE OF THE PRESS.

[Newbern Journal of Commerce.] In placing the names of the candidates nominated by the Greensboro' Convention | Magdelena, Bumsgard, at the head of our columns this morning, we invite the closest scrutiny of all who read their names to the character of the eminent gentlemen composing our ticket. Compare it with that presented by the Radical Convention, and see which party gives to the people of the State best assurances of good, honest government. With such a ticket we are bound to suconce more an opportunity to place in positions of honor and trust men to whom they can point with pride and confidence as in all respects worthy of the support of every man to whom the reputation and credit of "the good Old North State" are dear.

[Charlotte Observer.] To-day we nail to our masthead the names of the nominees of the Greensboro Convention. There is not a man on the ticket that can or will be the least objected to by any man belonging to the Democratic-Jonservative party. We congratulate the Convention in the choice they have made for standard bearers in this contest, and call upon the Conservative voters to rally around them and work with a vim for their election. This will be no idle contest. The enemy is armed, fully equipped, and in the field, and it is their determination to fight to the last ditch. Let us up and at them with an unbroken front. | Cotton, per lb., Let every man do his whole duty and the victory will be ours.

The people will, in August next, elect him Governor over Tod Caldwell by twenty thousand majority.

CRUDE TURPENTINE .- A dull apathy has twenty years ago, renovation and restoration haracterized the market during the entire period under review, and the result has been a declining market with a drooping tendency. In the earlier part of the week the market exhibited a slight inclination to rally from last week's duilness, but the stock was fully fair for the distilling wants, and buyers would not yield to the wishes of sellers, and no change of price was made up to Tuesday noon, when, with large lots on market and very little desire apparent for purchases, the market declined. The receipts are rapidly increasing and the accumulated stock, together with the daily receipts, are and will be sufficient to supply the wants of distillers for manufacturing. Shippers are not purchasing to any extent, and the bulk of receipts are consumed by the city manufactories.

The market to-day shows a better feeling and closes steady at $2 50 for hard, $3 50 for yellow dip, and $4 50 for virgin. The following table comprises the receipts and sales for the week : Bbls.
